

Owego Free Academy
Class of 1961
Mementoes

To Mrs. Tracy the Class of '61 gives what she has been begging for all year, - all the time in the world.

Mr. Wheaton – we leave Mr. Wheaton with his fond memories of Brockport.

Donna Aikens and Jack Woodward leave empty their favorite place down by the shop.

Gary Baker – Leaves his vacant parking space for Charlotte to guard.

Marie Balschuwit, Stephen Pitcher and Lee Sibley. ??

Bernice Barnes and Marietta Dibble leave their limitless supply of jokes to Linda Hotchkiss.

Billy Bartlett – leaves Sharon Hickey.

Paul Bartlow – leaves his ability for getting in and out of little cars to Ted Bell

Kathy Barto – leaves her crutches to the wood shop.

Barb Bean, Elaine Jacobs and Maxine Riegel – leave O.F.A. with never a loss for words.

Barb Bebel – leaves her 4 A.M. pizza making to JoAnn Rouse.

Toni Bensley – leaves all her tiaras to next year's queen.

Brit Bentzen – leaves Owego, much to the regret of O.F.A. and John Searles.

Scotti Bergen – leaves her wild ideas to Sue Hulbert.

John Benard – leaves those shapely daydreams in French class to Paul Baron.

Price Bingham – leaves his old, moth eaten, never opened change purse to Mrs. Blanchard.

Dave Boland – leaves his easy going disposition to anyone that can use it.

Marge Bower & Pat Forsyteh leave their giggles to Barbara Tripp and Kayln Signs.

Linda Brigode – leaves her Johnny Yuma cap to Snooky Engelhard so her hair won't get wet.

Carol Brill – leaves her skill with a basketball to Theresa Carter.

Larry Broich – leaves grey hair to Ron Moitzfield and the Grand Union until January.

Carolyn Brown – leaves her slippery fingers to next year's chem. class.

Bill Burdick – leaves his intrepid band of marchers to fade into the horizon.

Don Burleigh – leaves saddle sores to Larry Hackett.

Leda Campbell – leaves her chem. review book to a poor Junior duckling.

Mary Lou Campbell – leaves her small size to any young amazons roaming the halls.

Ted Carpenter – wills his photogenic mind to George Hunt.

Jack Clark – leaves his bongos to Louie Sauerbrey.

Karl Codner – leaves his vocal talent to Ski Jackson, who won't know what to do with it when he gets it.

Sandy Cole – leaves her freedom for an apron.

Tom Coveney – leaves his rose trimmed slacks to Albert Klossner.

Kathy Crannell – leaves all her beaux to anyone who'll take them.

Tom Crannell and Russ Hicks – leave their cassanovian ways to Jerry McMahon.

Phyllis Cronk – leaves her diamond mine to her sister Joyce with best regards.

Ron Detrick – leaves his rapidly growing hair to Toni Company.

Judy Dodge – leaves her taste in clothes to Mary Gillette.

Eloise Doty – leaves her gentleness to the first ????

Jon Engelhard – leaves his scientific aptitude to a poor junior girl taking physics.

Don Faber – leaves to future hop, skip and jumpers, a sectional record – to a number of girl friends.

Rose Fidurski – leaves her set in the electronics class to Dusty Camp.

Steve Franklin – wills his biggest problem, Faye Root, to his alma mater.

Bob Gage – leaves the halls of O.F.A.

Carolyn Getkin – leaves Pat Hardenstein to ride alone on the bus.

Ben Goodrich – leaves his 3rd period naps to bright eyed Dave Kloepper.

Judy Guile – leaves the A.F.S.

Linda Hall – leaves her history worries to a calm senior.

Bart Hart and Kate Stiles – leave their French horns to anyone who cares to practice.

Pat Harrington – gives her white majorette plume to the next years drum majorette.

Linda Harvey – leaves her flashing smile to quiet little Bootsie Evelin.

Nancy Hill – leaves the theme of the “Wedding March.”

Nancy Haag – leaves her cowboy boots to Janet Randall.

Joe Hodge – would leave his pitching arm, if it were detachable.

Ron Hughes – leaves Pat Brainard to any guy over six feet tall.

Maynard Hunt – leaves his excuse blanks to Mrs. Morrisey.

Bryce Jackson – leaves for college to learn how sweet little posies grow.

Bruce Jarvis and Ben Joplin – leave their Little Black Books to the highest bidders.

George Karpel – leaves his heavy-weight place on the wrestling team to Bobby Haines.

Jim Keefe – leaves his socks to anyone who can catch them.

Dawn Kimball – leaves Mr. Ellis with one less worry.

Leighton Knox – leaves his poker cards to any other musical maverick.

Judy Kocian – leaves her flag twirling position to her brother Leland.

Martha Kokorudz – leaves her magic comb to Heidi Kaufman.

Donna Kuhns – leaves her feminine ways to lola Beeman.

Leila Lindsay and Gine VanNess leave Mr. Read and his chem. lab with no regrets.

Arthur Lord, Jim Dodge and Fred Berry – leave their F.F.A. jackets to up and coming farmers.

Lorena Lord – bequeaths her curly black hair to Judy Carlson.

Nick Lovy – wills his body building secret to Roddy McIntyre.

Dick Luis – leaves O.F.A. in a cloud of exhaust fumes.

Sandy Lundgren, Linda Marble, Sharon Mosher and Darlene Smith – leave their man to any lonely underclassman.

Mike McCormick – wills his Irish temper to Lou DeSantis.

Pat McCullough – leaves her fluttering eyelashes.

Margi Mead – leaves her knack for picking out boys with nice cars to any interested junior girl.

Jerry Miller – leaves his red shoes to Paul Buckthal.

Peg Moesch – leaves her 8th period sun baths to any pale young thing.

Larry Morrow – leaves his brother Cecil.

Mary Morton – wills her pocketbook to any one strong enough to carry it.

Louis Neira – leaves behind a good pizza recipe to a fellow pizza lover, Dickie Dickinson.

Margi Newcomb – leaves Art White's scooter blue.

Franklin Nichols – leaves his Levi's to his brother.

John Nugent – leaves his library cart to all future bookworms.

Sally Overlander – leaves her Lady Clairol to Lucie Waterman.

Duanne Parker – gives his private war with Mr. Bradley to some fool.

Franny Patton – leaves her boyfriend and problems to Sharon Burleigh, who seems to manage quite well.

Sharon Perry, Evelyn Hogg and Iona Mott – leave their voices to Rosie Schumacher and Sharon B. Hall.

Edie Pistolese – wills her bowl of flowers to replace one of those masterpieces in the foyer.

Judy Porter – leaves her ability to make up excuses for being late to Jack Bailey.

Linda Pozzi – leaves her fluency in French to Nancy Bean.

Dennis Rando – leaves his battleship double parked.

Jane Rankin – leaves her gossip to Carol Raftis.

Lynrose Reed – leaves her switchboard and joins her sister, Connie Reed, as they answer the call to the wild blue yonder..

Doug Reynolds – leaves Lois Howe alone – for a while.

Ron Richards – leaves his physics marks for posterity.

Dorothy Riley – leaves her freckles to Charlotte Beach.

Kendall Robertson – leaves his drums to make bigger noise and Lister Harris leaves his curly locks to Cheryl Cost.

Ernest Rosenberger – carries his troubles over to Stakmore.

Dave Russell – refuses to leave anything – he wants to take it with him.

Jim Saddlemire and Steve Brown leave their “days off” to John Forsythe.

Bob Samuelson – sends his rubber band back to Chicago.

Jim Schultz – leaves his moldy gym clothes to Ron Stocum.

John Searles – leaves his foot in his mouth.

Eugene Segar – leaves the taxi meter running.

Pauline Segar – bequests her curly eyelashes to Kitty Karpel.

Roy Shrauger – leaves behind the machine shop – but not all in one piece.

Mary Sloat – leaves – well---I Wunder what?

Alan Smith – Leaves his Edgar Allen Poe comic book to Mrs. Blanchard.

Cheryl Smith and Keith Ingersoll – leave their hand in hand strolls to Jackie Simons and David Steenberg.

Tom Snyder – leaves his seat at Metros to Jack Bailey.

Betty Stables – leaves her Tiki God to anyone who needs its help.

John Steele – leaves his way with Porters to the Phoebe Snow.

Bob Strong – leaves his sportsmanship trophy to Ray Bennett.

Louise Terpenning – Leaves her long nails, a good wrestling tool, to Leonard Parker.

Marilyn Tholen – leaves Allen Vanderpool, isn't it sad?

Lillian Thompson – leaves her head of hair to Gloria Holcomb.

Merritt Truesdail and Byron Worden – leave all their ambitions to Pete Goodrich.

Carolyn Tyler – leaves her seat in Business Law to Mr. Gutshall's relief.

Allen Vanderpool – leaves to O.F.A. his many cuts and bruises.

Dale VanGorden – leaves his wrestling ability.

Bill VanWormer – leaves Gail VanGorden to Nancy Jatko.

Mike Voznick – leaves behind his penguin suit.

Don Warner – leaves his gum wrappers to Linda Allis.

Donna Watkins – leaves the elderberry wine from "Arsenic and Old Lace" to test worriers.

John Welch and Jim Bowen – leave their enormous appetites to next years lunch period.

Bev Westbrook – leaves her violin strings to Mr. Dick so he can keep his students in line.

Art White, Terry Stannard and Dan DeLola – leave their prowess to handling a scooter to Brian McGavin.

Pat Wilbur – leaves Jim Johnson with his heartburn.

Erwin Williams – leaves his fine manners to our incoming freshmen.

Pat Wovkulich – leaves her silver hair spray to the junior play cast.

Kathy Wright and Dick Vona – leave their beach parties to all who love fresh air and sunshine.

Don Wunder – leaves his temperance attitudes to Ron Carpenter.

Diane Wyka – leaves her dramatics to Cora Sue.

Jack Wylie – leaves his shy ways to John Sweet, who can surely use them.

Jim Wylie – leaves behind his over sized track shoes for someone to fill.